

COVID-19 UPDATE 2022

We continue to operate under the strictest of cross infection control policies to protect our patients and staff from transmission of a multitude of communicable diseases.

Controlling the potential transmission of COVID-19 is at the forefront of all of our efforts, but it is important that transmission of other diseases such as common colds and non-COVID-19 illness is also taken seriously by our patients and staff.

Please do not attend in person if you have any cold or flu like symptoms, whether you have tested for COVID-19 or not. Call our friendly staff to rearrange your appointment to a time when you are no longer a risk of transmission to other patients or our staff.

If you fall into an isolation category due to a COVID-19 positive test or close contact exposure, you are not permitted to attend at our practice, even for emergency care. We would be happy to offer phone advice and if urgently needed, can help to organise care at a government provided clinic for treatment of high risk individuals.

For all other patients, we will continue to provide excellent care in the safest environment we can possibly provide for you throughout the remainder of this pandemic and beyond.

We ask that you continue to be patient and understanding with our staff about the inevitable disruption that will continue to occur, as the pandemic may continue to affect our ability to provide your usual dental care.
